THEY SAY, "WHEN PRAISES GO UP, BLESSING COME DOWN."

I didn't do this on my own. When I moved here, I was surrendering my life to God. The world was cold and mean and dark, and I said, "Lord, there just got to be another way of life that I don't know nothin about." I began to seek God, and he inspired me to be a preacher.

Most of my members are still out of town. Right now it's pretty small, but God is big. I'm not preaching to the number. I'm doing the work. The word of God says, "Your labor will produce fruits. The labor of your hands." I mop, I sweep, I paint the church. I pay the bills, I counsel people, I go out when they call me, and I pray for them. I keep the house of God up.
